

MEMORANDUM

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

September 16, 1970

MEMORANDUM FOR: DR. KISSINGER

FROM: JEB S. MAGRUDER

At our last Plans Committee meeting it was suggested that a book should be written about the President's expertise in foreign affairs. After discussion of several names, the group (Messrs. Keogh, Klein, Moore -- an assistant to the Attorney General, and Nofziger) felt the best person to write the book would be Joseph Alsop.

It was then proposed to Mr. Haldeman that Klein ask Alsop if he would be interested in doing the book. Mr. Haldeman suggested that prior to making a decision, your opinion be obtained as to whether such a book should be written.

Do you think Klein should approach Alsop concerning this?
